THE OPENING OF COURTS

RECENT LONG VACATION SHOWED REDUCTION IN NEW SUITS FILED.

September Term Finds 2,576 Cases Pending in the Superior and Circuit Court Dockets.

Several years ago, before there was a Labor day, the first Monday in September was fixed as the first judicial day of the September term of the Circuit and Superior Courts. Since the Legislature fixed upon the first Monday in September as Labor day and made it a legal holiday the courts have, in fact, convened on the following day. To-morrow is, therefore, the first day of the September term of the courts, but the term in fact begins on Tuesday. The long vacation that has just passed was more quiet than the one of last year. There was a slight reduction in the humber of new suits filed during the vacation this year as compared with those filed during the vacation last year. This year there were filed in the Superior Court 332 new cases and in the Circuit Court eighty new cases. Last year there were filed in the Superior Court 392 new cases and in the Circuit Court ninety-five. The September term of the Superior Court this year finds 1,576 cases pending on the dockets, distributed as follows: Room 1, 494; Room 2, 537; Room 3, 545. In the Circuit Court there are pending on the civil and claim, or estate, docket 1,000 cases. This gives a total of 2,576 cases pending in the Superior and Circuit courts combined. During the year from Sept. 1, 1895, to Sept. 1, 1896, there have been filed in the Superior Court 2,443 cases and in the Circuit Court 548 cases, making a total for the year in both courts of 2,991 cases. During the same period there have been 282 estates docketed in the probate department of the Circuit Court, and 172 guardians have been appointed in the same department. The litigation in the courts has caused the issuance of 185 decrees in the Superior Court and twentyfive in the Circuit Court, making a total of 210 decrees issued. In the same time there have been issued from the Superior Court 234 executions and from the Circuit Court fifty, making a total of 284 execu-tions issued during the year.

This litigation has made it necessary to make 10,000 pages of complete record. This is, as its name would indicate, a compiete record of every case in which there was a judgment rendered affecting the title to real estate. There have been 250 tran-scripts on appeal to the higher courts where one or the other of the litigants was not satisfied with the judgment of the court below. These transcripts are of various engths, some of them being exceedingly buiky and some to the other extreme in brevity. Among those of extreme brevity was the apportionment suit which resulted in the Supreme Court deciaring the appor-tionment act of 1885 to be the only act on the statute books not successfully attacked. Since Sept. 1, 1895, the sheriff has sold 200 pieces of real estate and returned his certificates thereof to the clerk of the

IN THE SUBURBS.

Labor Day and Opening of Schools to Be Observed To-Morrow.

The public schools of West Indianapolis will open Monday morning, and all the pupils are expected to be in their respective rooms by 8:45 or receive a tardy mark. Bids will be opened and the contract let for the improvement of the west side of Brightwood street, in the town of Brightwood, with cement sidewalks, from Sutherland to Willow street, at the regular meet-ing of the Town Board next Wednesday

There still remains about eighty feet of cement to be put down on Station street, ever laid, and they claim that they will dressed by Mr. Lucius B. Swift, it has been postponed. He will address the citizens of Haughville during the coming week, however, but the exact date is not yet known. There is a fine crop of weeds on many of the commons of Haughville, and also upon several vacant lots in West Indianapolis, that are very unsightly and not a promoter

Hon. S. H. Spooner and Hon. Fremont Alford discussed the money question at the Town Hall in Brightwood last night, and it proved to be a very interesting neeting.

Some of the young hoodlums of West Indianapolis, have, from time to time, been annoying Mr. Swisher, the suburb's electrician, by filling the keyholes of the fire alarm boxes with dirt or putty. Yesterday box No. 35, at the corner of Osgood street and Oliver avenue, was found with the keyhole filled with dirt, which was ex-tracted with difficulty. These miscreants are endangering the lives and property of the citizens by their acts, and in case they are caught they will be prosecuted.

CONTROLLER JOHNSON SLASHING IN ALL DIRECTIONS,

But Will Not Sny Just What He Is Doing with the Estimates of $1,-000,000 for City Expenses.

City Controller Johnson is having a merry time with his little pruning knife, which he whetted a few weeks ago for the purpose of cutting down the estimates of the various departments for next year's expenses. He has been carrying the knife unsheathed for more than a week and has been using it, but he has not yet used it with sufficient effect to bring the demands for money within the probable receipts for the year. Every department has asked for money largely in excess of the amount used this year, and each one insists that its own claims are of greater weight than the claims of any other department. Thus the fight goes merrily on. Last Monday Mr. Johnson met the members of the Park Commission and discussed their demand for $62,000. The controller wanted to cut it in two parts and give the board one of the pieces, but the board offered great objection to this. Then last Friday he talked with the members of the Board of Public Works and the Mayor. The conference and its educational influences. lasted almost an entire afternoon, but when it adjourned an agreement was no nearer than before it began.

The various departments want over $1,000,000 next year, which is more than $100,000 in excess of the estimated receipts. Controller Johnson was instructed by Mayor Taggart at the recent cabinet meeting to confer with the departments and see what reductions can be made in their estimates. He will not give out the result of his conferences, but his silence leads to the conclusion that the conferences have resulted in nothing and therefore he has nothing to give out. Under the law the Council must make the appropriations this month, or the appropriations for this year will be continued for next year.

This is partially borne out by the contents of a letter received yesterday by Dr. Ferguson from F. A. W. Davis. The letter stated that the company was now drawing over seven million gallons of water daily from its wells and that it was willing and anxious to have Dr. Ferguson seal the valve connecting the gallery with the and it would probably continue all winter, but next summer it would fall far short of that amount and at a time when the nsumption of water is much greater than in the winter.

THE ANNUAL STATE EXHIBITION.

Four Days of Good Racing-New Special Features in Many Departments -Cooking by Electricity.

The Indiana State fair grounds is beginning to present signs of life. All over the o'clock, sharp. immense inclosure sounds of the hammer and saw are to be heard. The immeuse buildings, idle all but one week in the year, are being put into shape for the annual fall carnival. The fair this season promises to surpass any that has been held in years in point of interest. In but one department will the exhibits be lighter than in previous years, and this is the mechanical department. Owing to a combination of the threshing machine men, formed to prevent any exhibits of this class of machinery at any of the fairs, this class of exhibits will be omitted entirely. However, in the other classes of exhibits in the department there will be even a greater variety than heretofore. Especially will there be a splendid showing of electrical apparatus and machinery. The fair this season will open on Sept. 14. This gives but one more week for the exhibitors to get their displays in position. The entries close to-morrow, but Secretary Kennedy has already received more entries than there were exhibits on the grounds the whole of last year. The reports of the attendance at the various county fairs the last two weeks indicates that the crowds that will be here for the State fair will surpass the attendance of all previous fairs.

The Indiana State fair has outgrown the mere agricultural and mechanical exhibits. It has proved its worth as an educator in all avenues where advanced ideas abound.
Secretary Kennedy and the members of the board are well satisfied with the accomplishments of the past. This year as an especial feature they will present to the people of the State the first opportunity tor the practical demonstration of the newest scientific discovery the control of the conest scientific discovery, the "X rays," by Professor Dayton C. Miller, of the Case Applied School of Science, one of the most study of the subject. A cablegram to the secretary of the board amounces the saling of Professor Miller, who for almost a year has been colaboring with Professor Roentgen in Germany, and who has the benefit of that great scientist's latest discoverage. coveries and applications of the "X rays." Professor Miller will deliver his lectures and demonstrate them in Art Hall, which is being especially equipped for the pur-pose with electricity, that all of Professor Miller's appliances may be used. It will be Professor Miller's first engagement in this Many who have noted the programmes of the fair have spoken of the absence of a music day. The board some months ago decided not to devote any one day to any of the arts. It was decided, however, to secure a concert band that would be able to please music lovers and to have concerts each afternoon rather than one aftrnoon. Secretary Kennedy and daily programmes will be rendered. The world's famous racing course for light harness horses will witness some the best races that have ever been held on the track. The State board is particularly fortunate in having dates between the Fleetwood meeting and the Lexington and Terre Haute meetings. Horses that have been in the East and have finished the Grand Circuit are now west-bound, the Fleetwood meeting having just closed. Entries have been received from a number of owners of these circuit chasers, and there are a number of stables at the grounds that have been here ever since the Driving Club's annual meeting, the horses having been worked out on this track and got into ondition for the fall campaign. There will be four events on each day's programme, the trotters alternating with pacers. Purses in the sum of $500 have been hung up for each event, aggregating on the whole $8,000 that will be distributed among the steppers. There will be no choice of days as far as the racing is concerned or in fact so far as any feature of the fair is concerned. The racing card of ach day shows interesting events. The ree-for-all pace occurs on Wednesday and Friday. The race programme as arranged will be as follows:

Tuesday, Sept. 15—2:30 trot, $500; 2:23 pace, $500; 2:14 pace, $500; 2:12 trot, $500.
Wednesday, Sept. 16—2:30 pace, $500; 2:20 trot, $500; free-for-all pace, $500; 2:20 pace,

Tursday, Sept. 17-2:16 trot, $500; 2:17 pace, $500; 2:23 trot, $500; 2:35 trot, $500. Friday, Sept. 18—Free-for-all trot, $500; 2:09 pace, $500; 2:26 trot, $500; 2:26 pace, $500. A new departure is a rule laid down by the board that races must be finished within four heats or the money is to be divided as the summaries show the positions at the end of the fourth heat. will insure to the spectators a continued variety of races and insure the completion of each day's programme before night. The board has not definitely determined upon the starter or the judges, but they will be named this week. The woman's department this year will be more attractive than ever with the dis-plays of art and needle work. The culinay department will have more displays, adlitional premiums having been There will also be a special exhibit in this department of the new methods employed in heating and cooking by means of tricity, a practical demonstration of what the housewife may expect before many years of the new century pass by.

The board is determined that there will be no possible opportunity for criticism of the character of shows that will be on the grounds this year. There will be nothin that the most fastidious can offer objec-tion to, as the superintendent of the department of priviliges has made every efort to see that none are admitted but enertainments that will be up to the moral Children's day will be the only special day set apart in the week. The schools will close in the city and county to permit

PROBABLY FATAL FALL. Michael Folzenlogel and Two Other Men Seriously Hurt.

As the result of a weak plank in a scaffold at schoolhouse No. 4 Michael Folzenlogel, of 709 South Meridian street, John Mc-Laughlin, of 9 McGill street, and Edward of Hetherington & Berner, fell yesterday, and were badly injured. The scaffold was one of those built from a window, and was made of light boards, which in this case were new, though it is believed that one of them was defective. The three men were on the scaffold doing cornice work when the accident occurred, and when the board upon which all three were standing broke they all dropped to the ground, a distance of about forty feet. The ambulance was called and removed the suffering men to the City Hospital, where an examination was made. Folzenlogel fared the worst of them all, with his spine injured, paralyzing both legs, and his shoulder blade broken. McLaughlin suffered a broken collar bone, and his left arm and right leg

John McFall, of Terre Haute, is visiting fishing excursion. He transferred $1,000, which he had been carrying in his good clothes, to the old enes. This proved to be a lucky move. While he was gone and all the rest of the family were at market the city could be used for the great asclothes, to the old ones. This proved to be a lucky move. A BIG ASSEMBLY GROUND

GEN. JOHN COBURN DRAWS A LES-SON FROM THE CONVENTION.

City Needs a Hall for Huge Gatherings-It Might Be Erected in the Outskirts.

General John Coburn, in a talk with a Journal reporter yesterday, broached a few ideas in regard to a plan for holding the. big convention crowds that are bound to come to Indianapolis in the future. Said

"Nothing was more apparent to our peo-

Nothing was more apparent to our people during and since the recent national convention than the necessity of a great hall for public assemblages. The people are meeting constantly in greater and greater conventions of all kinds—political, religious, scentific, literary, agricultural and social. The agitation of great questions interesting to large numbers of the tions interesting to large numbers of the people seems to be in its infancy, and we must look in the future for vast assemblies every year. To accommodate these meetings of the people, private capital cannaking a stop at each for the purpose of hoisting the American flag to the top of the flag-staff. The exercises are expected to occupy the entire forenoon, and arrangements have been made to have several speakers address the people at school No. 2, and among others Senator Boyd, of No-2, and among others Senator Boyd, of possent and deliver a brief possent and an arrange possent and the least injured, but it was least that some thing is back and hips were seriously hurt, making back and hips were seriously hurt, making back and hips were seriously hurt, was least to be least injured, not be had or invested, for men of busi-ness habits and ability will not invest in sold, as an architect of good common sense could make it. Land can be bought for such purposes for from $150 to $250 an acre friends in this city at 390 East Market | within four miles of the monument, which is easily approachable by both electric and river and thus prevent the use of river water. This supply of water can probably be taken from the wells now, for there has been a great deal of rain in the last month, suit of clothes and wore an old suit on the ectry station, also a station for experi-

A part of this land might be appropriated for athletic vercises, upon which those who engage in them might needed, since our Tomlinson Hall and many other smaller ones can be had at any time. "Indianapolis is now the central city of the United States and will remain so very probably for a long time. It is growing rapidly, and additional hotel room will, as a matter of course, be created. We felt the need of it during the late convention. We also realized the fact that the City Hall is inadequate for great national conven-tions. Accessible land can be got east and tions. Accessible land can be got east and northeast, south and southeast and west and northwest of the city. The State owns lands near the Deaf and Dumb Asylum on which a building might without hurt be erected. Other land near there can be found. Going south farm lands join the city at the south end of Garfield Park, and beyond the city limits a mile land has been gold for 190% are are lately. Southwest and sold for $200 an acre lately. Southwest and west of White river there is a great body of accessible land reaching along Big Eagle creek. While northwest beyond the river there are fine tracts of land not too far away. But these are details to be con-sidered hereafter. "I make these suggestions, for to me it is apparent that Indianapolis is soon destined to be one of the great and important cities of the United States. Nothing can impede or retard its growth but a lack of enterprise and forethought on the part of its things than we have done. They will be thrust upon us unless we turn our backs upon the immense progress of our State and Nation. Not a city in America has a more advantageous situation for incal-culable development. Legislation is needed to give the counties power to do the things I have suggested for the State. Each county should have its park, its great place for assemblies of the people, its athletic grounds its horticultural and forestry station, and laws should be passed authorizing the purchase and improvement of these

GREAT CROWD COMING.

The 1898 K. of P. Encarroment Will Bring Thousands to This City.

Frank Bowers, grand keeper of records and seals, Knights of Pythias, says that some confusion and misunderstanding have been occasioned by the announcement of the fact that the Supreme Lodge decreed at Cleveland that the supreme tribunal shall hold its meetings in this city semiannually. The Supreme Tribunal is not in session continuously, but meets upon call to settle all controversies that arise in the order throughout the United States. It is the highest judicial power in the order. As the Supreme Tribunal met about the time of the Cleveland encampment, it will hold no more sessions until early next year. It has been the custom in the past for the Supreme Tribunal to meet at any convenient point. As Indianapolis has been selected as the place for holding the biennial encampment of the Supreme Lodge in 1898 some inquiries are already being made concerning it. Mr. Bowers says that the largest crowd that
